

The Center for Global Health at the Colorado School of Public Health is issuing a call for nominations for the Award for Excellence in Global Health.

The purpose of this award is to recognize and publicly honor those individuals, institutions or organizations based in the state of Colorado that have made a significant and exemplary contribution to the sustained improvement of the health of multiple populations over an extended period of time in a global health setting.

This award will be given at the Global Health Symposium, scheduled for October 18, 2019 at the University of Colorado, Anschutz Medical Campus.

Past Awardees:

- 2008: Jim Jackson of Project CURE
- 2009: Warren Berggren, MD; Gretchen Berggren, MD; Eric Simoes, MD
- 2010: Robert E. Booth, PhD and Charles Steinberg, MD
- 2013: Thomas Campbell, MD and Michaleen (Dr Mickey) Richer, MD, DTMH
- 2014: Carl Bartecchi, MD, MACP, Susan Niermeyer, MD, MPH, FAAP and Calvin Wilson, MD
- 2015: Blair Gifford, PhD and PK Vedanthan, MD
- 2016: Theodore C. Ning, MD, FACS and Constance C. Ning RPT, MA
- 2017: Sarah Mulligan and Joshua Solomon, MD, FCCP
- 2018: Emilie Calvello Hynes, MD, MPH and Paul Polak, MD

Selection Criteria:

The award may be given to an individual, organization (for-profit or not-for-profit), or institution that is primarily based in the state of Colorado.

Awardee has made significant and sustainable contribution to the improvement of the health of multiple populations of people, or a single population for an extended duration.

Awardee has invested a significant period of time and personal effort into global health activities.

The global health contributions have been replicated in more than one country or population.

The global health contributions have primarily benefitted those populations that have few health resources, especially those of underserved populations in the US and the developing world.

How Nominations Work:

A letter or email from the nominator which details the global health contributions of the nominee, compliance with the above criteria, and reasons for selecting this particular nominee. Self-nomination is acceptable.

At least one additional letter or email of support for the nomination from a second individual, indicating agreement with the contributions of the nominee, compliance with stated criteria, and reasons for selection.

To nominate, please submit all materials to the attention of Mary Moua at mary.moua@ucdenver.edu.

Nominations will be retained for consideration for a three-year period.

Deadline:

Nominations must be received no later than September 6, 2018 (midnight) for consideration by the selection committee. Selection will be concluded and you will be notified no later than September 18, 2019.